Message from the CEO

Stirring the Emotions with Visuals

Not just sending a message, but getting it across

The amana group traces its origins to 1979, when operations began as an advertising photography company. Since that time, we have grown our business by concentrating on not just sending a message, but getting it across, honing our skills as a group of visual communications experts.

Our business model is one of responding to a broad range of markets: we create the visuals with the focus on advertising usage, plan and produce communications content, and sell creative elements. As we work to maximize the power of photographs and other visuals, we provide communications that are about not just sending a message, but getting it across. This sort of visual communications is at the heart of the amana group's business.

Evoking Emotions with Visual contents

The advancement of digital media and the spread of the Internet are encouraging people to communicate in ever more diverse ways. The ongoing emergence of ever more new devices is also changing the face of advertising. In response to this increasing diversity, the amana group remains a step ahead of the changing times with the creation of new business model and the creative services.

Our business now extends beyond the worlds of advertising and publishing, including new industries and an even broader range of industries and markets. We are also developing our business outside of Japan and into other parts of Asia.

With society growing increasingly diverse, we work to ascertain the reality that lies just ahead of the present as we search out and create visual communications that touch ever more people's hearts.

Visual Communication Business

Translating Messages through Visuals

The amana group leverages a rich variety of creative resources, serving as a one-stop location that employs visuals to draw up, produce and execute communications plans.

Our team of producers plans a range of visual communications to offer those best suited to the customer, whether they be advertising or other graphics, television commercials or websites. Our professional photographers and CG artists provide top-class performance of expression and technical capabilities, leveraging one of the industry's largest archives of creative elements to conduct communication that convey underlying customer messages with visuals. We are also taking advantage of the condensed corpus of our own media to develop new methods of expression.

Producing over 20,000 Works a Year

We are professionals in the art of using visuals to touch people's hearts. Our 400-strong sales staff interface with advertising agencies, art directors and designers, as well as customers in the corporate public relations, advertisement and sales promotion arenas to meet a host of visual needs. Our 40 photographers and 190 CG artists work in a creative environment the amana group has built, including 20 photography studios, to maximize their potential, bringing to life the visuals that truly communicate the messages our customers want to express.

Enhancing Expressiveness and Technical Capabilities in CGIs and Video

When creating visuals, mainly in product images, the use of computer-generated imagery, or CGIs, lends itself not just to lower costs but also for greater freedom of expression. They make possible a multifaceted usage and simulations of visuals. Also, the growing demand for video, whether for television commercials, websites or smart devices, makes it necessary to create high-quality visuals inexpensively. We apply leading-edge technologies to this purpose. In addition to honing our skills of expression, we work on a daily basis to research and develop new systems.

Offering a Wide Range of Digital and Physical Content

The spread of the Internet and smart devices has put corporations in charge of their own media and brought about an information age. This is also an age of mass consumption of visual content. To achieve high-quality, richly expressive visual communication in digital media, we focus on the development of new materials, ranging from virtual reality content using leading-edge technologies to owned media distribution services. We can also meet real-world event planning needs for experience-oriented events and seminars, allowing us to offer a wide range of content, from digital to physical.

amana creative service

Stock Photo Sales Site: “amanaimages.com”

We offer for sale the creative elements needed for advertisements, publications, television programs, websites and a host of other media. Working with photographers under contract and partner companies, we commission photos of people, landscapes, news, celebrity portraits and much more, offering a highly original collection of stock photos. In addition, to dramatically improve cost performance and work efficiency when producing computer graphics and video, we provide a wealth of video as well as fonts that can be purchased individually. Our leading-edge search functionality provides an on-line service environment that makes visual content convenient and easy to use.

Providing Services to Support Creative Work

Our “panowork” offers panoramic photographs that express the world in its full 360-degree splendor. Available on the web, this service can be used to provide virtual spatial tours of offices and event spaces and is perfectly suited to sales promotion tools. We also have a network of 500 photographers in all over Japan. Whether the need is for portraits of people, offices, shops or events, we offer service packages to meet a range of uses and budgets. In addition to photography services, we also provide offerings, such as helping out with rights that are too much for individuals to handle or by casting models.

Art Photo Business

In keeping with the amana group's mission of touching people's hearts through high-quality visuals, we are responding to growing global demand for art photos. To create a market in Japan for art photos, we plan, produce and sell art photos under two brands. The IMA brand plays a major role in disseminating the fascination of art photos through composite media such as magazines and books, as well as at galleries and events related to art photos, expanding the base of this market. Meanwhile, the amanasalto brand offers a premium publishing business that employs world-leading platinum printing techniques to provide art photos to high-end customers. We have also launched the "amana photo collection" of works by young Japanese photographers and are working to build it into one of the world's foremost collections.

IMA

In addition to publishing IMA, a quarterly photo magazine themed on "living with photography," we operate IMA Online to distribute photobooks and information about photos. We are also launching gallery. The IMA Gallery, which opened in Tokyo's Tennozu district, sells photographic works and hosts events by photographers. Meanwhile in Yokohama, we have opened "&ima," operating under the concept of a "home for enjoying photographs." A uniquely experience-oriented shop, &ima offers photography services, as well as a printing service for a host of photography-related items. Through these shops, we are working to broaden the base of photography fans.

amanasalto

amanasalto employs a world-leading platinum photo-printing method to plan and publish works, as well as planning, producing and selling printed works. This method expresses gradations beautifully, as well as deep jet blacks and fine detail. Digital technologies are also employed to facilitate the expression of high-end monochrome. This method is extremely durable, with colors said to last 500 years without fading if stored properly. Some of the most well-known novelists and photographers in Japan and overseas employ this technique, including Hiroshi Sugimoto, Nobuyoshi Araki and Tadao Ando, and we are working to extend the business still further.

amana creative platform(acp)

A New Concept for Creating the Visuals: acp

The amana group has conceptualized the “amana creative platform (acp)” as a cloud-based system aimed at rationalizing the production process.

The platform that serves as the base for acp stretches across the amana group, allowing creators and producers to work on a common platform. This approach creates a database of groupwide knowledge, rationalizes production processes and ensures the safety of information. As a result, the system allows flexibility in meeting the needs of diverse clients, markets, media and means of expression. We also offer acp as a service, providing a creative platform for customers.

Get the Knowledge of Thousands in Your Pocket: akb

The “amana knowledge board (akb)” is a key component of our inner communication system. It improves our abilities on both the corporate and individual level by visualizing the people, things, and ideas that make up our company and bringing employees together. The knowledge from our projects is recorded by our specialized editing department and shared with employees online. We hope to strengthen the competitive edge of our employees by enlisting systems and content that emphasize human connections.

The System for Visual Asset Management and Operation: shelf

Appropriate management and operation of the wealth of visual assets we possess also helps rationalize workflows. To this end, we have developed “shelf,” a database that supports the management and operation of a range of visual assets, including logos and product photos. We concentrate on developing efficient systems in our role as a corporate visual solution partner.
